FORM

GERALDTON

A year of discipleship, based in leadership
and mission.

Overview

During the year you will learn what it means to be a disciple and put it into practice. It will help you engage with what it means to be a missional disciple in whatever context you find yourself now and in the future.

A year of Form is based around three foundation principles:

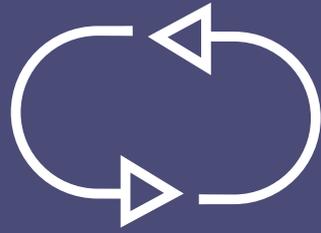

Information | Imitation | Innovation

Information

One day a week engaging with challenging and inspiring teaching.

This will also include a weekly huddle time to reflect upon and put into action what you're learning. You'll join the staff team to pray then move into input sessions for the day with lunch provided in the middle. There will also be two weekends away and a mission trip during the year.

Imitation

One day a week serving in a ministry area that reflects your heart and gifting plus serving on Sundays.

Our hope is that as you serve in your chosen ministry, you grow as a leader and get to input creatively how this area furthers its mission to this city.

You will also be paired up with a mentor as you put into practice what you learn. Our hope is that through serving and reflecting, a life of mission will be modelled and imitated as you go through the year.

Innovation

You will be encouraged to get a part time job in the city. This is partly to fund your year, but more importantly this gives you a context outside of church to innovate as you put this missional teaching and thinking into action, which is such an important part of the learning process.
